BITS OF STATE NEWS

Commercial statistics incorporated in the report of Major R. R. Ralston, officer in charge of Cincinnati District No. 1, to Division Engineer Colonel Lansing H. Beach indicate that there was a tremendous passenger and freight traffic on the Ohio River during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1916.

Freight traffic for the whole of the Ohio River totaled 7,346,357.8 tons and had a valuation of $50,908,170.52. Of this commerce coal shipments totaled 4,541,561 tons, with a valuation of $5,083,123; fluorspar, 100,295.7 tons valued at $1,002,957; miscellaneous merchandise totaled 155,962 tons, valued at $11,697,150; sand and gravel totaled 1,890,355 tons, valued at $756,343; stone totaled 132,833.5 tons, valued at $132,833.50; groceries totaled 12,647.8 tons, valued at $1,897,170; live stock (cattle, hogs, horses, mules and sheep) totaled 15,996.7 tons, valued at $1,487,832; and whiskey totaled 3,044.7 tons, valued at $1,219,880.

Regular and other boats carrying passengers except ferries, transported 1,919,361 passengers. The ferries, transported 3,098,024 passengers. Col. John Q. Dickinson and Dr. L. Prichard have each given $5,000 to the Salvation Army at Charleston to build another story to the barracks already in the course of construction and nearing completion. The building which is being erected on Virginia street between Summers and Alderson, will be a two story structure. Instead of one as formerly contemplated. Some months ago Governor William A. MacCorkle gave the Salvation Army $5,000 for the purpose of building a barracks and the work was immediately begun.

A swarm of Italian honey bees have improvised a hive of their own at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Burt, of Beech Bottom and have produced a fine lot of honey which will shortly be removed from between the window casing and the weatherboarding of the Burt home.

Dietrich H. Krueger, who dropped dead on Third street, Parkersburg, during the storm last Thursday afternoon, had a premonition of his death about a month ago, according to Sergeant J. W. Pen, in charge of the Parkersburg branch of the United States regular army recruiting service. Sergeant Penn said Mr. Krueger was intimate friends.

Penn's story yesterday was to the effect that Mr. Krueger was a spiritualist and Penn was talking to him about living alone in bachelor apartments in the Wetherell building.

"What if you should get sick, while living here alone, you wouldn't have anybody to look after you?" Penn asked him.

Mr. Krueger's reply was to the effect that he wasn't going to die in that manner.

"I am going to die from heart trouble in the midst of a big electrical storm," he said, and dismissed the subject.

The state audit of Taylor county which has just been completed, shows a number of discrepancies, all of which have been adjusted by the officials involved. The audit covered the period from 1909 to 1913. The accounts of former Sheriff O. A. Heffner the sum of $10.35 was found to be due the state and $873.30 due the districts and county. Former County Clerk H. Fleming was found to owe the county $260.88. Former Assessor L. C. Haymond was asked to pay the county $220.40, which he did.

The Wellsburg News says, "C. M. Warden & Company raised and sold during the past hatching season about 3,000 chicks which they sold when one day old. The variety was pure bred White Leghorn. Last year this company sold about 600 day old chicks. Next year extensive plans are under consideration and a much larger output is expected."

Congressman Sutherland has arranged with the Department of Commerce and the Census Bureau to compile all statistics they have bearing on West Virginia industries, etc. This means a big job and the assignment of a number of clerks to perform it. When completed, it will constitute a valuable reference library for the West Virginia Board of Trade, the Secretary of which, Henry H. Archer, had the special work instituted.

Several concerns are making preparations to open extensive chemical producing plants in and near Charleston. There are a number of such plants already in operation in Charleston and The Mail of that city suggests "that this delightful town on the Great Kanawha will in due time become known as 'The Chemical City,' not by virtue of the adoption of any slogan, but simply because it will in fact and not in fancy, become such through the operation of a natural law."

The Tyler County News prints the following account of a decidedly unusual experience which fell to the lot of Charles Doak, of upper Laurel Run. "Mr. Doak was stacking some hay. A severe storm was approaching, and he got under the hay stack. The lower side of the stack, and the side that was protected against the storm, was about three feet above the ground and was built on a rail foundation. Mr. Doak was sitting there watching the rain when he felt something crawl across his neck and the right side of his face. The next instant the huge head of a copper head snake, with its beady eyes and vicious mouth looking like a Krupp gun to Mr. Doak, paused for a second within two inches of his nose. Mr. Doak was horrified. He was afraid to move lest the snake would bite him and he was afraid to sit still for fear of the fangs of the reptile. The snake glided over his face until more than a foot of its length had crossed, when Mr. Doak gave a sudden blow with his hand and struck the snake to the ground. "Mr. Doak then jumped to his feet. He was scared so badly that he didn't know whether he had been bitten or not. He kicked at the snake and it in turn struck at him with its fangs. It missed and before Mr. Doak could get anything to strike it, the snake had gilded into some weeds that were near and made its escape. A careful search made for the reptile failed to reveal its hiding place."

WILL HANG FRIDAY.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Aug. 1.—Claude Sutton, 21 years old, will be hanged at the State penitentiary here next Friday. He will be the first person to be executed here in a year and the first white man in many years. Strong pressure is being brought to bear on Governor Hatfield to grant a reprieve. The murder for which Sutton was convicted was committed when he was but 19 years old. He saw a patient pay Dr. J. J. Kennedy, a bill in Randolph county and decoyed the physician into the darkness on the pretext that his brother was ill and then shot him and robbed him.

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

Here's cigarette-comfort

FATIMA may never become the only cigarette smoked by keen, substantial men of this type. But Fatima has already become more popular with such men than almost any other cigarette.

This is because men who smoke wisely want a SENSIBLE cigarette—a cigarette that is comfortable to the tongue and throat and that leaves a man feeling "fit" and clear-headed even after smoking more often than usual. You should try Fatimas.
